“ I was there the day you were born, Alexander, at the Hyman Caplan Pavilion, taking care of you & your mother who will forever live in my heart as Queenie; Queenie my neighbor on Larkspur Lane & my son, John's classmate. I remember your grandparents Chau & Hung fondly, as well as your uncle who was known to my sons as Rocky & your aunt Kim. You have joined my son, John in a realm that we here on Earth only dream about; a place where you can run with the wind, see the colors of the rainbow, no more pain & suffering. Your mother & I talked tonight (5/12/16). She misses you deeply, just like I miss my first born son, John. But Alexander, if you are anything like John, you will continue to "show" yourself to your mother through little quirky ways! I do not mean to use an old phrase "this to shall pass" but I hope by speaking with your mother I assisted in lifting a bit of sorrow from her shoulders. "Live" & "laugh" young man --- and we will meet again some day!

“ Alexander was a very special person. He touched many lives with his quirky sense of humor and his great smile. Whenever you did something stupid Alexander would just crack up in class. He was loved by many people. Alexander I hope you knew how many people cared about you. Be free my friend to be with the Angels.
