“ A memory of sweet Anne:

Anne helped me to learn how to manage the camp kitchen, and we would often spend whole days baking and cooking together. Anne's smile was irresistible, her laugh had to be joined in with, and her care was genuine and deep. We had so many happy times in the camp kitchen, but it is baking chocolate chip cookies that most reminds me of her. Every time we made these cookies, we would get close to an argument about how many minutes to let them bake (and it was 8 minutes versus 9 minutes :) We tried to laugh, but this was serious. Using cooking spray also reminds me of Anne - she would remind me to "Spray the snot out of it!" We definitely laughed about that! Anne always dropped whatever she was doing to help when I had a question, and she taught me so many things. I want to be a joyful force of love to those around me like she modeled through her life. She radiated Jesus' love and joy in the most delighted yet grounded way - love love her!!!
