I have many great memories with my aunt Eddie! Brenda and I growing up would always want to hang out together and when she would come to pick Brenda up from my mom and dads house after bingo I would hide in the back of that big old station wagon she drove. I would pop out half way between her house and mine knowing she wasn't going to turn around and take me back. I will always have those memories of times spent driving you crazy aunt Eddie, till our paths cross again, I love you! Say hi to pappy ang grandma beers!❤️

“ I was blessed to have Edith as my aunt. So many times she was there for me when I needed help. When I needed a band uniform made, she did it with precision. When I was a new mom and Travis wouldn't stop crying, a phone call to her, and she calmed me down. When I needed someone to babysit, sometimes long hours, she opened up her house and welcomed Travis as if he was one of her own grandchildren. She always made me laugh at bingo (shake up those balls!) and never have I knew a person her changed curtains as many times as she did. Oh how I'll miss her peanut butter eggs, but not near as much as I'll miss her. Rest In Peace Aunt Edith and please give hugs and kisses to the family that was waiting for you.
