“ Douglas & family,

I knew Glenda when Douglas was a small boy, then we lost track of each other. Glenda was a fun friend. We had some good times together.

I taught Glenda to drive, starting on a church parking lot.

I remember a trip to Pequea Park. We had entered the park through the covered bridge, but I chose to drive back through the ford. Glenda refused - and decided to walk across the ford. Of course all the kids wanted to wade through with her. I waited until they were all about 1/2 way across and "gunned it" across drenching the entire group.

Another memory is of us stopping for milk shakes. She was in the passenger seat, put her shake on the dashboard. She was wearing shorts, I started off & the icy milkshake wound up on her lap. Oh, how she screamed!

On a trip to Rehovoth Beach in DE we had not more than arrived and Doug ran across the sand and stepped onto a place where someone had covered a fire over with sand. His foot was burned, and we spent the day at an ER instead of the beach.

Her sense of humor was infectious, and I remember her fondly.
