“ I've known Jeff my whole life. I remeber the day Jeff and my dad took my brother and I four wheeling in the Bronco. Jeff asked asked my dad which mud hole to go through big or little. My dad said little and Jeff went for the big one and that's where we sat stuck in the mud. May you R.I.P Jeff.

“ In the late evenings in the summertime, when Jeff and Scott were young teenagers, they would ride their bikes to my home. We would hear laughing, as they were in our pool having fun and cooling off. We often smile, think about them and remember them as young fun loving kids. Love Ya Aunt Joan and Uncle John
