“ Rick & Shelby Brodbeck-I am truly sorry for the pain you must be feeling right now... as no parent in this world wants to out live their child. Most parents would GIVE their life for their child to have one. There are no words that can comfort you both right now & just know that it is going to hurt, for sometime, because we don't understand why when we lose somebody. I know that his sister is probably hurting and very sad, but do yourself a favor and lean on each other at this difficult time. Keep your heads up and know that everyday that passes, Matthew is now right there above you, looking down smiling, & watching over you all. He will be missed by all & my condolences go out to you and your family. Rick, my mom (Agnes) would like to also send her condolences for your tragic loss. Take care. Samantha & Agnes Shank
