“ Thinking of you a lot today, Mike. As more days pass it's harder to accept that we won't be having another video, or phone call. Always going to have you in my heart, thank you for everything you said and did. I'll never forget my time at dominos and that's all because of you, it was more than a job, you made that place a family and home.

“ Heather in Jordan I just want to tell you that I Didn't see you guys all that much but I love you guys I always think about you and I know how you guys are feeling right now it hurts but it does get easier but you still have an emptiness where your heart is right now it feels like someone pulled your heart out of your chest and stomped on it with their foot but it does get easier but they'll always be that void in your heart however Your dad told me and confessed his Faith to me that he loved God the father Almighty and that he had Jesus as a savior now you can't go to heaven without having Jesus as your savior read John 3-16 now I know one thing he is in heaven he is ever so happy he sitting at The fathers table feasting with his past love ones in our Savior Jesus Christ he is happy he can breathe he can walk he can run he's young again I will keep you all in my prayers God loves you and so do I
