“ I will always remember the fun we had in high school playing softball, golf, basketball and doing many other things together. Being a close friend of the family, I kept in contact with Paul throughout his life. I appreciate his service to our country while he was in the Air Force. He deserved the service at Indiantown Gap National Cemetery.

“ Even when expected grief comes hard. Just remember "there are things that death cannot touch." Love, hope, tenderness. These things will get you through until memories can make you smile again. Thinking of you with affection.
