“ My condolences to Pat, Linda, Lisa, Gina, & Denise. Ricky, and his sisters were a large part of my childhood on Greenwood Ave. I had the privilege of listening to his drumming everyday! it inspired me to pursue drumming on my own, and for that I thank him. And I'm sure our parents loved having two drummers side by side. There were some late night phone calls made, asking us to tone it down a bit.

These are now very precious memories for me. I wouldn't trade my childhood on Greenwood Ave, and South End Park. Ricky you will be missed greatly. God Bless You.

Warmest regards, Brad.

“ Also I wanted to ad this that I posted on FB and what Rick's drums meant to him the day he got them.....
FB/ I remember when Joe & Pat/parents bought Rick this piece of slanted wood with a rubber pad on it and two drum sticks. I ask him what it was about. He said his mom, and dad got him that first to see if he would use it and not lose interest, and if he did keep using it; they'd buy him a drum set, which of course; he used it non stop, and they bought him a real drum set which was the greatest thing in life to him. Furthermore, he learned to play the drums very well too! I remember when he got the drum set, he was all but crying showing me his new drum set. I never saw anyone in my life more excited about something than Rick was his drum set.

“ Rick, I remember when we used to come up to your house and listen to you play your drums standing outside or looking in the window to see you thinking how great you are. Well Hod has one of the best drummers in his Rock n Roll Heaven. Also, when you would stop in at the BP station and you told me "when you see me coming get me a Dr Pepper and sit it on the counter" God Bless Bless you my friend! RIP.
