“ Sandra loved to fish. We spent many hours fishing from Delaware to Canada. One time on the Indian river bay we got caught in a thunder storm..Sandra and Bob were in their little runabout and we in ours. Ray got us back to the campground and went back out to find Sandy an Bob. He found them blown to shore with a dead motor. He towed them back in the pouring rain but there were safe but very very wet and cold. One time in Canada Bob and Sandy were fishing in their canoe and us in a runabout. We decided to tow them so we could get to the good fishing spot faster, but all of a sudden Sandy shouted fish on..We didn't think she really had a fish so Ray continued to tow them pretty fast for quit a way with Sandy hollering stop fish on. By the time we got where we were going she had one VERY dead lake trout to pull in. Oops I guess we spoiled her fun but it gave us laughs for years
